

“AI and Group Theory”

Alexei Miasnikov (Stevens Institute of Technology)

Based on several well-known open problems in group theory, I will explore how to utilize AI/ML in research on infinite groups and how the use of AI changes our perspective on the nature of mathematical problems and their complexity. Additionally, I will touch on the impact of AI on mathematical practice and what skills young mathematicians need for the (near) future.